Sept 10, 1975

Dear Mr & Mrs Weisberg:

... I see they haven't changed your state, though, yet.

Thank-you for taking time from your being busy with your book to look for some information on the Burch people. The situations peculiar as they give appearances of having left the face of the planet.

I do intend to visit with the librarian who makes decisions on book purchases and make a case for your publications. I prefer to be successful the first time around; thanks for the helpful enclosures.

A question: do you people have reasons for not having your books on shelves at Kroch's & Brentano's (world's largest bookseller), just inside the entrance, alongside a good seller like "Assassination tapes"? With public interest in the subject of common concern increasing, easy impulse accessability to your publications could greatly facilitate the increase in public pressures with the Congress. Outside of those who read the Sept '75 "Post", who is aware of your books or your address?

Sen Schweiker now appears to be fully with us; do you know who has been working on him? Dr. Wecht?

I don't keep copies of these letters - let me know if I haven't sent along a Aug '74 "true" mag interview with Frank Sturgis. You'll find it interesting if you do not have it.

Enclosed for your use is copied information from past "Chicago Journalism Reviews" regarding another political assassination. For sure, the ~~Ed~~ CPD was obliged to keep an eye on the Panthers. Even the raid may have been justified; but it came to look more like a political wipe-out in the end.
